MEMORIAL DAY

As the weather changes and we kick off the summer with this upcoming long weekend, lets not forget what this day means. Memorial day is a time to honor, reflect, and remember those who've made the ultimate sacrifice for their country. We hope everyone enjoys the long weekend with your family and friends!

WERE YOU LATE??

So we have had some reps reach out to us about being marked Tardy in IEX even though they are starting to login at their start time. As we stressed over and over we do not work for free we do not want you logging in early. If you are getting marked late and you did start logging in at your actual start time, you can get your user session info from the virtual desktop. That is the time the company must use. If you need assistance, as always, reach out to steward!!
